

Call for Volunteers.

The Membrane Society of Australasia needs your help!

The Membrane Society of Australasia's (MSA) Board of Directors are looking for enthusiastic volunteers to help achieve its 2021-22 Strategic goals.

As a MSA volunteer, you will be mentored by one of the MSA's Directors and immersed in the day-to-day operations of the society. This can include helping publish newsletters, coordinating prestigious awards, organising, and running events, and engaging with potential members and corporate sponsors.

Being a MSA Volunteer means you get to work with a team of proactive senior leaders and research professionals to help the MSA provide better support its community and contribute to a strategic business projects to solve a real problem. In the coming year, projects include, revitalising the MSA Website, growing our social media presence, compiling a book detailing the history of membrane technology in Australasia. Throughout the experience, you will also gain new perspectives and skills, share ideas, and build your network with researchers and professionals working on membrane science and technology across Australia and New Zealand.

Benefits:

MSA Volunteers make new friends, learn new skills, and boost their careers by gaining experience in the non-for-profit sector. MSA Volunteers also receive:

1. free MSA Membership,
2. complementary access to MSA Conferences, symposia, and seminars,
3. as well as a letter of commendation for your resume.

Volunteer today!

MSA Volunteer positions run for 6 or 12 months and are open to all students and early career researchers. No prior experience or knowledge of membrane technology is necessary. MSA volunteers work on tasks across a broad range of business administration and governance tasks, the most important thing to bring is a sense of professionalism and a keen willingness to learn.

MEMBRANE SOCIETY OF AUSTRALASIA

How to Apply:

Apply now by sending us a summary (200 words) of why you want to volunteer for the MSA and what you are most excited about learning through this program. A CV is also highly appreciated, but not strictly required.

Email your application to secretary@membrane-australasia.org before 22 July to be considered for the next intake.

Our next intake starts in August, don't miss out!